Tanzania background: Tanzania is an East Africa country which includes the island of Zanzibar and other off shore islands in the Indian Ocean. It is 945,087 square km, and it has about 42 million inhabitants. About ¼ of the population follows traditional religions. Islam and Christianity are the two big religions of the country and 60% of the people in Tanzania live in poverty. The economy is largely based on agriculture. Dar es Salaam, the country's largest city is its main port and commercial center used by East and Central Africa countries. The official languages are Kiswahili and English.

Some of the Tanzania United Methodist church ministries include: 1. Ministry with refugees and immigrants, 2. Ministry with women, youth and children, 3. Feeding and educating orphans, 4. Training about HIV/AIDS, 5. Malaria prevention, 6. Christian movies showing for evangelization.

History of Tanzania United Methodist Church:

The United Methodist Church North Katanga Episcopal area under Bishop Ngoy Kimba Wakadilo from DR

Congo initiated an Evangelism project in 1989 to develop the church in neighboring Tanzania. Six pastors including Rev. Mutwale Wa Mushidi were sent in 1992 with their families to minister in Tanzania. To this day, the mission has established 63 United Methodist Congregations. Throughout the church ministry in Tanzania, the mission has undergone a lot of difficulties related to financial shortages and is still struggling to find its place among the core body of other Tanzanian churches. The lack of its own buildings and community projects, the fact that local people look at the church solely as a job provider, and poverty have handicapped its normal growth. The mission has already achieved some success in the constructing a few church buildings especially in the country side.
